Key Objectives

For us, the child with its individual personality stands is the focus of our pedagogical work. Every child is an individual and unique. Every child is curious, inquisitive, independent and co-determining. Each child, who comes to us is the manager in our ward. Every child is perfect in itself and shows us what it needs. For this, it is necessary to fully devote oneself to the child. That's why we offer ourselves to the child as a conversation partner and playmate.

We act with appreciation, respect and mindfulness towards the child. We approach each child individually strive to gain the trust of the child and give security and protection during the time we care for the child. We see our task- according to the child's stage of development - to give impulses for further development or to solve problems.

We want a close and trusting educational partnership with you. We are aware of the role model function we perform with our actions and our attitude. We create a good framework for educational spaces, are always in dialogue with the children entrusted to us, provide assistance and are positively disposed towards them. We encourage and promote independent action. We respond to the children in a situation-oriented manner and offer them appropriate play opportunities.

In our house, we meet each other at eye level; an open and honest culture of discussion is practiced that helps us move forward together.
